"The move to agentic-driven solutions fundamentally reimagines how business gets done," said Balkrishan "BK" Kalra, President and Chief Executive Officer, Genpact. "We've built something truly differentiated: a company where process intelligence and artificial intelligence work as one."

In late June, at the Company's 2025 Investor Day, Genpact unveiled GenpactNext—its updated growth model and strategic framework in support of its pivot to advanced technologies. Genpact is creating agentic AI solutions that orchestrate complex business processes autonomously. These solutions enable client operations to be faster and more responsive.

Today, the Company takes another step in this transformation with the launch of a new tagline – 'on it.'

"'On it' is the essence of who we are and what we do," said Caitlin Blewett, Chief Marketing Officer, Genpact. "Culture is Genpact's greatest competitive advantage - we don't merely respond to change, we bring it – creating exponential value for our clients and employees. In a world that moves fast, we move faster. Simply put, Genpact is 'on it.'"
