1. Organization

The Company is a global professional services firm that drives digitally-led innovation and runs digitally-enabled intelligent operations for its clients, guided by its experience running thousands of processes for hundreds of Fortune Global 500 clients. The Company has over 114,200 employees serving clients in key industry verticals from more than 30 countries.

2. Summary of significant accounting policies

(a) Basis of preparation and principles of consolidation

The accompanying consolidated financial statements have been prepared in accordance with U.S. generally accepted accounting principles ("U.S. GAAP") and the rules and regulations of the Securities and Exchange Commission (the "SEC") for reporting on Form 10-Q. Accordingly, they do not include certain information and note disclosures required by generally accepted accounting principles for annual financial reporting and should be read in conjunction with the consolidated financial statements included in the Company's Annual Report on Form 10-K for the year ended December 31, 2021. The accompanying consolidated financial statements reflect all adjustments that management considers necessary for a fair presentation of the results of operations for these periods.

The accompanying financial statements have been prepared on a consolidated basis and reflect the financial statements of Genpact Limited, a Bermuda company, and all of its subsidiaries that are more than 50% owned and controlled. When the Company does not have a controlling interest in an entity but exerts significant influence over the entity, the Company applies the equity method of accounting. All intercompany transactions and balances are eliminated in consolidation.

(b) Use of estimates

The preparation of consolidated financial statements in accordance with U.S. GAAP requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the amounts reported in the consolidated financial statements. Significant items subject to such estimates and assumptions include the useful lives of property, plant and equipment, intangible assets and goodwill, revenue recognition, allowance for credit losses, valuation allowances for deferred tax assets, the valuation of derivative financial instruments, the measurement of lease liabilities and right-of-use ("ROU") assets, measurements of stock-based compensation, assets and obligations related to employee benefits, the nature and timing of the satisfaction of performance obligations, the standalone selling price of performance obligations, variable consideration, other contingencies. Management believes that the estimates used in the preparation of the consolidated financial statements are reasonable, and management has made assumptions about the possible effects of the ongoing COVID-19 pandemic on critical and significant accounting estimates. Although these estimates and actions, actual results could differ from these estimates. Any changes in estimates are adjusted prospectively in the Company's consolidated financial statements.

(c) Business combinations, goodwill and other intangible assets

The Company accounts for its business combinations using the acquisition method of accounting in accordance with Accounting Standard Codification ("ASC") Topic 805, Business Combinations, by recognizing the identifiable tangible and intangible assets acquired and liabilities assumed, and any non-controlling interest in the acquired business, measured at their acquisition date fair values. Contingent consideration is included within the acquisition cost and is recognized at its fair value on the acquisition date. A liability resulting from contingent consideration is re-measured to fair value as of each reporting date until the contingency is resolved. Changes in fair value are recognized in earnings. All assets and liabilities of the acquired businesses, including goodwill, are assigned to reporting units. Acquisition-related costs are expensed as incurred under selling, general and administrative expenses.

2. Summary of significant accounting policies (Continued)

Goodwill represents the cost of acquired businesses in excess of the fair value of identifiable tangible and intangible net assets purchased. Goodwill is not amortized but is tested for impairment at least on an annual basis on December 31, based on a number of factors, including operating results, business plans and future cash flows. The Company performs an assessment of qualitative factors to determine whether the existence of events or circumstances leads to a determination that it is more likely than not that the fair value of a reporting unit is less than its carrying amount. Based on the assessment of goodwill impairment if it determines that it is more likely than not that the fair value of a reporting unit is less than its carrying amount. If, based on the quantitative impairment analysis, the carrying alue of the goodwill of a reporting unit exceeds the fair value of such goodwill, an impairment loss is recognized in an amount equal to the excess. In addition, the Company performs a qualitative assessment of goodwill impairment between annual tests if an event occurs or circumstances change that would more likely than not reduce the fair value of a reporting unit between annual tests if an event occurs or circumstances change that would more likely than not reduce the fair value of a reporting unit between the fair value of a reporting unit between the fair value of a reporting unit exceeds the fair value of such goodwill, an impairment loss is recognized in an amount equal to the excess. In addition, the Company performs a qualitative assessment of goodwill impairment between annual tests if an event occurs or circumstances change that would more likely than not reduce the fair value of a reporting unit below its carrying amount. See Note to for information and related disclosures.

Intangible assets acquired individually or with a group of other assets or in a business combination and developed internally are carried at cost less accumulated amortization and accumulated impairment loss based on their estimated useful lives as follows:

Customer-related intangible assets	1 - 9 years
Marketing-related intangible assets	1 - 8 years
Technology-related intangible assets	2 - 10 years

Intangible assets are amortized over their estimated useful lives using a method of amortization that reflects the pattern in which the economic benefits of the intangible assets are consumed or otherwise realized.

In business combinations where the fair value of identifiable tangible and intangible net assets purchased exceeds the cost of the acquired business, the Company recognizes the resulting gain under "Other operating (income) expense, net" in the consolidated statements of income.

The Company also capitalizes certain software and technology-related development costs incurred in connection with developing or obtaining software or technology for sale/lease to customers when the initial design phase is completed and commercial and technological feasibility has been established. Any development cost incurred before technological feasibility is established is expensed as incurred as research and development costs. Technological feasibility is established upon completion of a detailed design program or, in its absence, completion of a working model. Capitalized software and technology costs include only (i) external direct costs of materials and services utilized in developing or obtaining software and technology and (ii) compensation and related benefits for employees who are directly associated with the project.

Costs incurred in connection with developing or obtaining software or technology for sale/lease to customers which are under development and not put to use are disclosed under "intangible assets under development." Advances paid towards the acquisition of intangible assets outstanding as of each balance sheet date are disclosed under "intangible assets under development."

Capitalized software and technology costs are included in intangible assets under technology-related intangible assets on the Company's balance sheet and are amortized on a straight-line basis when placed into service over the estimated useful lives of the software and technology.

The Company evaluates the remaining useful life of intangible assets that are being amortized at each reporting period wherever events and circumstances warrant a revision to the remaining period of amortization, and the remaining carrying amount of the intangible asset is amortized prospectively over that revised remaining useful life.

(d) Financial instruments and concentration of credit risk

Financial instruments that potentially subject the Company to concentration of credit risk are reflected principally in cash and cash equivalents, derivative financial instruments and accounts receivable. The Company places its cash and cash equivalents and derivative financial instruments with corporations and banks with high investment grade ratings, limits the amount of credit exposure with any one corporation or bank and conducts ongoing evaluations of the creditworthiness of the corporations and banks with which it does business. To reduce its credit risk on accounts receivable, the Company conducts ongoing credit evaluations of its customers.

(e) Accounts receivable

Accounts receivable are recorded at the invoiced or to be invoiced amount and do not bear interest. Amounts collected on trade accounts receivable are included in net cash provided by operating activities in the consolidated statements of cash flows. The Company maintains an allowance for current expected credit losses inherent in its accounts receivable portfolio. In establishing the required allowance, management considers historical losses which are adjusted to current market conditions and a reasonable and supportable forecast. Account balances are charged off against the allowance after all means of collection have been exhausted and the potential for recovery is considered remote.

The Company uses revolving accounts receivable-based facilities in the normal course of business as part of managing its cash flows. The Company accounts for receivables sold under these facilities as a sale of financial assets pursuant to ASC 860 "Transfers and Servicing" and de-recognizes these receivables, as well as the related allowances, from its balance sheets. Generally, the fair value of accounts receivable sold approximates their book value due to their short-term nature, and any gains or losses on the sale of these receivables are recorded at the time of transfer and included under "interest income (expense), net" in the Company's consolidated statements of income.

(f) Revenue Recognition

The Company derives its revenue primarily from business process management services, including analytics, consulting and related digital solutions and information technology services, which are provided primarily on a time-and-material, transaction or fixed-price basis. The Company recognizes revenue upon the transfer of control of promised services to its customers in an amount that reflects the consideration the Company expects to receive in exchange for those services. Revenues from services rendered under time-and-materials and transaction-based contracts are recognized as the services are provided. The Company's fixed-price contracts include contracts for extomization of applications, maintenance and support services. Revenues from these contracts are recognized ratably over the term of the agreement. The Company accrues for revenue and unbilled receivables for services rendered between the last billing date and the balance sheet date.

The Company's contracts with its customers also include incentive payments received for discrete benefits delivered or promised to be delivered to the customer or service level agreements that could result in credits or refunds to the customer. Revenues relating to such arrangements are accounted for as variable consideration when the amount of revenue to be recognized can be estimated to the extent that it is probable that a significant reversal of any incremental revenue will not occur.

The Company records deferred revenue attributable to certain process transition activities where such activities do not represent separate performance obligations. Revenues relating to such transition activities are classified under contract liabilities and subsequently recognized ratably over the period in which the related services are performed. Costs relating to such transition activities are fulfillment costs which are classified to the contract and result in the generation or enhancement of resources. Such costs are expected to be recoverable under the contract and are therefore classified as contract cost assets and recognized ratably over the estimated expected period of benefit under cost of revenue.

Revenues are reported net of value-added tax, business tax and applicable discounts and allowances. Reimbursements of out-of-pocket expenses received from customers have been included as part of revenues.

Revenue for performance obligations that are satisfied over time is recognized in accordance with the methods prescribed for measuring progress. The input (cost expended) method has been used to measure progress towards completion as there is a direct relationship between input and the satisfaction of a performance obligation. Provisions for estimated losses, if any, on uncompleted contracts are recorded in the period in which such losses become probable based on the current contract estimates.

The Company enters into multiple-element revenue arrangements in which a customer may purchase a combination of products or services. The Company determines whether each product or service promised to a customer is capable of being distinct, and is distinct in the contract. If not, the promised products or services are combined and accounted for as a single performance obligation. In the event of a multiple-element revenue arrangement, the Company allocates the arrangement consideration to separately identifiable performance obligations based on their relative stand-alone selling prices.

Certain contracts may include offerings such as sale of licenses, which may be perpetual or subscription-based. Revenue from distinct perpetual licenses is recognized upfront at the point in time when the software is made available to the customer. Revenue from distinct, non-cancellable, subscription-based licenses is recognized at the point in time it is transferred to the customer. Revenue from any associated maintenance or ongoing support services is recognized ratably over the term of the contract. For a combined software license/services performance obligation, revenue is recognized over the period that the services are performed.

All incremental and direct costs incurred for acquiring contracts, such as certain sales commissions, are classified as contract cost assets. Such costs are amortized over the expected period of benefit and recorded under selling, general and administrative expenses.

Other upfront fees paid to customers are classified as contract assets. Such fees are amortized over the expected period of benefit and recorded as an adjustment to the transaction price and deducted from revenue.

Timing of revenue recognition may differ from the timing of invoicing. If a payment is received in respect of services prior to the delivery of services, the payment is recognized as an advance from the customer and classified as a contract liability. Contract assets and contract liabilities relating to the same customer contract are offset against each other and presented on a net basis in the consolidated financial statements.

Significant judgements

The Company often enters into contracts with its customers that include promises to transfer multiple products and services to the customer. Determining whether products and services are considered distinct performance obligations that should be accounted for separately rather than together may require significant judgement.

Judgement is also required to determine the standalone selling price for each distinct performance obligation. In instances where the standalone selling price is not directly observable, it is determined using information that may include market conditions and other observable inputs.

Customer contracts sometimes include incentive payments received for discrete benefits delivered to the customer or service level agreements that could result in credits or refunds to the customer. Such amounts are estimated at contract inception and are adjusted at the end of each reporting period as additional information becomes available only to the extent that it is probable that a significant reversal of any incremental revenue will not occur.

(g) Leases

At the inception of a contract, the Company assesses whether the contract is, or contains, a lease. The Company's assessment is based on whether: (1) the contract involves the use of a distinct identified asset, (2) the Company obtains the right to substantially all the economic benefit from the use of the asset throughout the term of the contract, and (3) the Company has the right to direct the use of the asset. At the inception of a lease, the consideration in the contract is allocated to each lease component based on its relative standalone price to determine the lease payments.

Leases are classified as either finance leases or operating leases. A lease is classified as a finance lease if any one of the following criteria are met: (1) the lease transfers ownership of the asset by the end of the lease term, (2) the lease contains an option to purchase the asset that is reasonably certain to be exercised, (3) the lease term is for a major part of the remaining useful life of the asset or (4) the present value of the lease payments equals or exceeds substantially all of the fair value of the asset. A lease is classified as an operating lease if it does not meet any one of the above criteria.

For all leases at the lease commencement date, a ROU asset and a lease liability are recognized. The lease liability represents the present value of the lease payments under the lease. Lease liabilities are initially measured at the present value of the lease payments not yet paid, discounted using the discount rate for the lease at the lease commencement. The lease liabilities are subsequently measured on an amortized cost basis. The lease liability is adjusted to reflect interest on the liability and the lease payments made during the period. Interest on the lease liability is determined as the amount that results in a constant periodic discount rate on the remaining balance of the liability.

The ROU asset represents the right to use the leased asset for the lease term. The ROU asset for each lease initially includes the amount of the initial measurement of the lease liability adjusted for any lease payments made to the lessor at or before the commencement date, accrued lease liabilities and any lease incentives received or any initial direct costs incurred by the Company.

The ROU asset of finance leases is subsequently measured at cost, less accumulated amortization and any accumulated impairment losses. The ROU asset of operating leases is subsequently measured from the carrying amount of the lease liability at the end of each reporting period, and is equal to the carrying amount of lease liabilities adjusted for (1) unamortized initial direct costs, (2) prepaid/(accrued) lease payments and (3) the unamortized balance of lease incentives received.

The carrying value of ROU assets is reviewed for impairment, similar to long-lived assets, whenever events or changes in circumstances indicate that the carrying amounts may not be recoverable.

The Company has elected to not separate lease and non-lease components for all of its leases and to use the recognition exemptions for lease contracts that, at commencement date, have a lease term of 12 months or less and do not contain a purchase option ("short-term leases").

Significant judgements

The Company determines the lease term as the non-cancellable term of the lease, together with any periods covered by an option to extend the lease if it is reasonably certain to be exercised, or any periods covered by an option to terminate the lease, if it is reasonably certain not to be exercised. Under certain of its leases, the Company has a renewal and termination option to lease assets for additional terms between one and ten years. The Company applies judgement in evaluating whether it is reasonably certain to exercise the option to renew or terminate the lease. The Company considers all relevant factors that create an economic incentive for it to exercise the renewal or termination option. After the commencement date, the Company reassesses the lease term if there is a significant event or change in circumstances that is within the Company's control and affects its ability to exercise (or not to exercise) the option to renew or terminate.

2. Summary of significant accounting policies (Continued)

The Company has applied an incremental borrowing rate for the purpose of computing lease liabilities based on the remaining lease term and the rates prevailing in the jurisdictions where leases were executed.

(h) Cost of revenue

Cost of revenue primarily consists of salaries and benefits (including stock-based compensation), recruitment, training and related costs of employees who are directly responsible for the performance of services for customers, their supervisors and certain support personnel who may be dedicated to a particular client or a set of processes. It also includes operational expenses, which consist of facilities maintenance expenses, travel and living expenses, rent, IT expenses, and consulting and certain other expenses. Consulting charges represent the cost of consultants and contract resources with specialized skills who are directly responsible for the performance of services for clients and travel and other billable costs related to the Company's clients. It also includes depreciation of property, plant and equipment, and amortization of intangible and ROU assets which are directly related to providing services that generate revenue.

(i) Selling, general and administrative expenses

Selling, general and administrative ("SG&A") expenses consist of expenses relating to salaries and benefits (including stock-based compensation) as well as costs related to recruitment, training and retention of senior management and other support personnel in enabling functions such as human resources, finance, legal, marketing, sales and sales support, and other support personnel. The operational costs component of SG&A expenses also includes travel and living costs for such personnel. SG&A expenses also include acquisition-related costs, legal and professional fees (which represent the costs of third party legal, tax, accounting and other advisors), investment in research and development, digital technology, advanced automation and robotics, and an allowance for credit losses. It also includes depreciation of property, plant and equipment, and amortization of intangibles and ROU assets other than those included in cost of revenue.

(j) Credit losses

An allowance for credit losses is recognized for all debt instruments other than those held at fair value through profit or loss. The Company pools its accounts receivable (other than deferred billings) based on similar risk characteristics in estimating expected credit losses. Credit losses for accounts receivable are based on the roll-rate method, and the Company recognizes a loss allowance based on lifetime expected credit losses at each reporting date. The Company has established a provision matrix based on historical credit loss experience, adjusted for forward-looking factors and the economic environment. The Company believes the most relevant forward-looking factors are economic environment, gross domestic product, inflation rates and unemployment rates for each of the countries in which the Company or its customers operate, and accordingly the Company adjusts historical loss rates based on expected changes in these factors. At every reporting date, observed historical default rates are updated to reflect changes in the Company's forward-looking estimates.

Credit losses for other financial assets and deferred billings are based on the discounted cash flow ("DCF") method. Under the DCF method, the allowance for credit losses reflects the difference between the contractual cash flows due in accordance with the contract and the present value of the cash flows expected to be collected. The expected cash flows are discounted at the effective interest rate of the financial asset. Such allowances are based on the credit losses expected to arise over the life of the asset which includes consideration of prepayments based on the Company's expectation as of the balance sheet date.

A financial asset is written off when it is deemed uncollectible and there is no reasonable expectation of recovering the contractual cash flows. Expected recoveries of amounts previously written off, not to exceed the aggregate amounts previously written off, are included in determining the allowance at each reporting period.

Credit losses are presented as a credit loss expense within "Selling, general and administrative expenses." Subsequent recoveries of amounts previously written off are credited against the same line item.

(k) Reclassification

Certain reclassifications have been made in the consolidated financial statements of prior periods to conform to the classification used in the current period. The impact of such reclassifications on the consolidated financial statements is not material.

(l) Impairment of long-lived assets

Long-lived assets, including certain intangible assets, to be held and used are reviewed for impairment whenever events or changes in circumstances indicate that the carrying amount of such assets may not be recoverable. Such assets are required to be tested for impairment if the carrying amount of the assets is higher than the future undiscounted net cash flows expected to be generated by the assets. The impairment amount to be recognized is measured as the amount by which the carrying value of the assets exceeds their fair value. The Company determines fair value by using a discounted cash flow approach.

(m) Assets held for sale

A long-lived asset (or a disposal group for a long-lived asset comprising a group of assets and related liabilities) is classified as held for sale if it is highly probable that the asset will be recovered through sale rather than continuing use.

The Company records assets held for sale at the lower of its carrying value or fair value less costs to sell. The following criteria are used to determine if a business is held for sale: (i) management, having the authority to approve a sale, commits to a plan to sell; (ii) the business is available for immediate sale in its present condition; (iii) an active program to locate a buyer and a plan to sell the business have been initiated; (iv) the sale of the business is probable within one year; (v) the business is being actively marketed for sale at a reasonable price relative to its fair value; and (vi) it is unlikely that the plan to sell will be withdrawn or that significant changes to the plan will be made.

In determining the fair value of the assets less costs to sell, the Company considers factors including current sales prices for comparable assets, discounted cash flow projections, third party valuation and any indicative offers. The Company's assumptions about fair value require significant judgment because the current market is highly sensitive to changes in economic conditions. The Company estimates the fair values of assets held for sale based on current market conditions and assumptions made by management, which may differ from actual results and may result in impairments if market conditions deteriorate.

Any impairment loss on the initial classification and subsequent measurement is recognized as an expense. Any subsequent increase in fair value less costs to sell (not exceeding the accumulated impairment loss that has been previously recognized) is recognized in the income statement.

When assets are classified as held for sale, the Company does not record any depreciation and amortization for the respective property, plant and equipment and intangibles.

(n) Recently issued accounting pronouncements

The authoritative bodies release standards and guidance which are assessed by management for impact on the Company's consolidated financial statements.

The following recently released accounting standard has not yet been adopted by the Company:

In November 2021, the FASB issued ASU No. 2021-10, "Government Assistance." This ASU improves financial reporting by requiring disclosures that increase the transparency of transactions with governments. The ASU is effective for the Company for annual periods, beginning December 15, 2021. Early adoption is permitted. The Company is in the process of assessing the impact of this ASU on its consolidated results of operations, cash flows, financial position and disclosures.

(a) Derivative assets are included in "prepaid expenses and other current assets" and "other assets." Deferred compensation plan assets are included in "other assets" in the consolidated balance sheets.

(b) Included in "accrued expenses and other current liabilities" and "other liabilities" in the consolidated balance sheets.

(c) The Company values its derivative instruments based on market observable inputs, including both forward and spot prices for the relevant currencies and interest rate indices for relevant interest rates. The quotes are taken from an independent market database.

(d) The fair value of earn-out consideration, calculated as the present value of expected future payments to be made to the sellers of acquired businesses, was derived by estimating the future financial performance of the acquired businesses using the earn-out formula and performance targets specified in each purchase agreement and adjusting the result to reflect the Company's estimate of the likelihood of achievement of such targets. Given the significance of the unobservable inputs, the valuations are classified in level 3 of the fair value hierarchy.

(e) Deferred compensation plan assets consist of life insurance policies held under a Rabbi Trust. Assets held in the Rabbi Trust are valued based on the cash surrender value of the insurance contract, which is determined based on the fair value of the underlying assets included in the insurance portfolio and are therefore classified within level 3 of the fair value hierarchy.

(f) The fair value of the deferred compensation plan liability is derived based on the fair value of the underlying assets in the insurance policies and is therefore classified within level 3 of the fair value hierarchy.

6. Derivative financial instruments

The Company is exposed to the risk of rate fluctuations on its foreign currency assets and liabilities and on foreign currency denominated forecasted cash flows and interest rates. The Company has established risk management policies, including the use of derivative financial instruments to hedge foreign currency assets and liabilities, foreign currency denominated forecasted cash flows and interest rate risk. These derivative financial instruments consist of deliverable and non-deliverable forward foreign exchange contracts, treasury rate locks and interest rate swaps. The Company enters into these contracts with counterparties that are banks or other financial institutions, and the Company considers the risk of non-performance by such counterparties not to be material. The forward foreign exchange contracts and interest rate swaps mature during a period of up to 42 months and the forecasted transactions are expected to occur during the same period.

The following table presents the aggregate notional principal amounts of outstanding derivative financial instruments together with the related balance sheet exposure:

(a) Notional amounts are key elements of derivative financial instrument agreements but do not represent the amount exchanged by counterparties and do not measure the Company's exposure to credit, foreign exchange, interest rate or market risks. However, the amounts exchanged are based on the notional amounts and other provisions of the underlying derivative financial instrument agreements. Notional amounts are denominated in U.S. dollars.

(b) Balance sheet exposure is denominated in U.S. dollars and denotes the mark-to-market impact of the derivative financial instruments on the reporting date.

6. Derivative financial instruments (Continued)

FASB guidance on derivatives and hedging requires companies to recognize all derivative instruments as either assets or liabilities at fair value in the balance sheet. In accordance with the FASB guidance on derivatives and hedging, the Company designates foreign exchange forward contracts, interest rate swaps and treasury rate locks as cash flow hedges. Foreign exchange forward contracts are entered into to cover the effects of future exchange rate variability on forecasted revenues and purchases of services, and interest rate swaps and treasury rate locks are entered into to cover interest rate fluctuation risk. In addition to this program, the Company uses derivative instruments that are not accounted for as hedges under the FASB guidance in order to hedge foreign exchange risks related to balance sheet items, such as receivables and interest, such as receivables and unrency.

The fair value of the Company's derivative instruments and their location in the Company's financial statements are summarized in the table below:

		Cash flow	v hedges	Non-de	signated

Cash flow hedges

For derivative instruments that are designated and qualify as cash flow hedges, the effective portion of the gain (loss) on the derivative instrument is reported as a component of other comprehensive income (loss) and reclassified into earnings in the same period or periods during which the hedged transaction is recognized in the consolidated statements of income. Gains (losses) on the derivatives, representing either hedge ineffectiveness or hedge components excluded from the assessment of effectiveness, are recognized in earnings as incurred.

The Company executed a treasury rate lock agreement for $350,000 in connection with future interest payments to be made on its senior notes issued by Genpact Luxembourg S.à r.l. ("Genpact Luxembourg") and Genpact USA, Inc. ("Genpact USA"), both wholly-owned subsidiaries of the Company, in March 2021 (the "2021 Senior Notes"), and the treasury rate lock was designated as a cash flow hedge. The treasury rate lock agreement was terminated on March 23, 2021 and a deferred gain was recorded in accumulated other comprehensive income and is being amortized to interest expense over the life of the 2021 Senior Notes. The remaining gain to be amortized related to the treasury rate lock agreement as of June 30, 2022 was $612.

(a) These forward foreign exchange contracts were entered into to hedge fluctuations in foreign exchange rates for recognized balance sheet items such as receivables and intercompany borrowings, and were not originally designated as hedges under FASB guidance on derivatives and hedging. Realized gains (losses) and changes in the fair value of these derivatives are recorded in foreign exchange gains (losses), net in the consolidated statements of income.

In connection with the COVID-19 pandemic, the Company has reevaluated its hedging arrangements. The Company has considered the effect of changes, if any, in both counterparty credit risk and the Company's own non-performance risk while assessing hedge effectiveness and measuring hedge ineffectiveness. The Company believes that its hedges continue to be effective after taking into account the expected impact of the COVID-19 pandemic on the Company's hedged transactions.

Prepaid expenses and other current assets consist of the following:

8. Assets and liabilities held for sale

The Company is taking actions to realign its portfolio to focus on emerging solutions where it sees greatest opportunities for growth and deprioritizing assets that no longer fit with its long-term strategy. Pursuant to a plan approved by management in the second quarter of 2022, the Company is in the process of divesting a business that comprises part of the Company's Consumer and Healthcare segment.

It is the Company's intention to complete the sale of this business within the twelve months following the end of the second quarter of 2022. Accordingly, the Company classified this business as held for sale during the second quarter of 2022.

As a result, the Company classified $49,358 of assets and $9,939 of liabilities as held for sale as of June 30, 2022. The Company's analysis indicated that the fair value less costs to sell exceeded the carrying value of the business and no impairment losses were recognized during the three and six months ended June 30, 2022.

The components of assets and liabilities of the business classified as held for sale in the consolidated balance sheet consist of the following:

	As of	June 30, 2022

18. Earnings per share

The Company calculates earnings per share in accordance with FASB guidance on earnings per share. Basic and diluted earnings per common share give effect to the change in the number of Company common shares outstanding. The calculation of basic earnings per common share is determined by dividing net income available to common shareholders by the weighted average number of common shares outstanding during the respective periods. The potentially dilutive shares, consisting of outstanding options on common shares, restricted share units, common shares to be issued under the ESPP and performance units, have been included in the computation of diluted net earnings per share and the number of weighted average substanding, except where the result would be anti-dilutive.

The number of shares subject to stock awards outstanding but not included in the computation of diluted earnings per common share because their effect was anti-dilutive is 1,769,767 and 2,801,692 for the six months ended June 30, 2021 and 2022, respectively, and 1,964,240 and 2,864,585 for the three months ended June 30, 2021 and 2022, respectively.

19. Segment reporting

The Company manages various types of business process and transformation services in an integrated manner for clients in various industries and geographic locations. The Company's operating segments are significant strategic business units that align its products and services with how it manages its business, approaches key markets and interacts with its clients.

During the quarter ended June 30, 2022, the Company renamed its three reportable segments. Beginning in the second quarter of 2022, the Company's: (1) Banking, Capital Markets and Insurance segment has been renamed the Financial Services segment; (2) Consumer Goods, Retail, Life Sciences and Healthcare segment has been renamed the Consumer and Healthcare segment; and (3) High Tech, Manufacturing and Services segment has been renamed the High Tech and Manufacturing segment.

The Company's Chief Executive Officer, who has been identified as the Chief Operating Decision Maker ("CODM"), reviews operating segment revenue, which is a GAAP measure, and operating segment adjusted income from operations ("AOI"), which is a non-GAAP measure. The Company does not allocate, and therefore the CODM does not evaluate, stock-based compensation expenses, amortization and impairment of acquired intangible assets, foreign exchange gain/(losses), interest income/(expense), restructuring expenses, acquisition related expenses, any business held for sale, other income/(expense), or income taxes by segment. The Company's operating assets and liabilities pertain to multiple segments. The Company manages assets and liabilities on a total company basis, not by operating segment are not presented to the CODM and are not reviewed by the CODM.

The CODM continues to review the operating segment revenue, which is a GAAP measure, and operating segment adjusted income from operations, which is a non-GAAP measure.

(a) During the second quarter of 2022, the Company's management approved a plan to divest a business that comprises part of the Company's Consumer and Healthcare segment. The revenues/losses attributable to this business have been excluded from the computation of adjusted operating income margin with effect from April 1, 2022, as management believes that excluding such losses provides useful information about the Company's financial performance and underlying business trends.

(b) The Company does not allocate these charges to individual segments in internal management reports used by the CODM. Accordingly, such expenses are included in our segment reporting as "unallocated costs."

*Revenues, net for "Others" primarily represents the impact of foreign exchange fluctuations, which is not allocated to the Company's segments for management's internal reporting purposes. 20. Net revenues

Disaggregation of revenue

In the following table, the Company's revenue is disaggregated by the nature of services provided:

	Three months	ended June 30,	Six months ended June 30,
	2021	2022	2021		2022
Data-Tech-AI	$ 406,463	$ 488,543	$ 779,704	$	955,289
Digital Operations	581,663	600,604	1,154,493		1,202,301
Total net revenues	$ 988,126	$ 1,089,147	$ 1,934,197	$	2,157,590

All three of the Company's segments include revenue from both Data-Tech-AI and Digital Operations. See Note 19 for additional information.

During the second quarter of 2022, the Company's management modified the manner in which it disaggregates revenue for reporting and internal tracking purposes, and the Company now reports revenue disaggregated by the nature of services provided to the client, namely either Data-Tech-AI or Digital Operations. Prior to the second quarter of 2022, the Company disaggregated its revenue as revenue from the General Electric Company (GE) or revenue from Global Clients (other than GE).

The Company has evaluated the impact of the COVID-19 pandemic on the Company's net revenues for the three and six months ended June 30, 2021 and 2022, respectively, to ensure that revenue is recognized after considering all impacts to the extent currently known. Impacts observed include constraints on the Company's ability to render services, whether due to full or partial shutdowns of the Company's facilities or travel restrictions, penalties relating to breaches of service level agreements, and contract terminations or contract performance delays initiated by clients. The Company's net revenues for the three and six months ended June 30, 2021 were lower than expected before the onset of the pandemic, primarily due to delays in obtaining client approvals to shift to a virtual, work-from-home operating environment, whether as a result of regulatory constraints or due to privacy or security concerns. The COVID-19 pandemic did not have a significant impact on the Company's net revenues for the three and six months ended June 30, 2022.

Due to the nature of the pandemic, the Company will continue to monitor developments to identify significant uncertainties relating to revenue in future periods.

Contract balances

Accounts receivable include amounts for services that the Company has performed but for which payment has not been received. The Company typically follows a 30 day billing cycle and, as such, at any point in time may have accrued up to 30 days of revenues that have not been billed. The Company has determined that in instances where the timing of revenue recognition differs from the timing of invoicing, the related contracts generally do not include a significant financing component. Refer to Note 4 for details on the Company's accounts receivable and allowance for credit losses.

	As of December 31, 2021	 As of June 30, 2022
Contract assets (Note a)	$	13,741	$ 15,554
Contract liabilities (Note b)
Deferred transition revenue	$ 1	55,077	$ 142,900

(a) Included in "prepaid expenses and other current assets" and "other assets" in the consolidated balance sheet.

20. Net revenues (Continued)

(b) Included in "accrued expenses and other current liabilities" and "other liabilities" in the consolidated balance sheet.

As of June 30, 2022, the Company reclassified certain contract assets and contract liabilities of $2,372 and $1,480, respectively, to assets and liabilities held for sale. See Note 8 for additional information.

Contract assets represent the contract acquisition fees or other upfront fees paid to a customer. Such costs are amortized over the expected period of benefit and recorded as an adjustment to the transaction price and deducted from revenue. The Company's assessment did not indicate any significant impairment losses on its contract assets for the periods presented.

Contract liabilities include that portion of revenue for which payments have been received in advance from customers. The Company also defers revenues attributable to certain process transition activities for which costs have been capitalized by the Company as contract fulfillment costs. Consideration received from customers, if any, relating to such transition activities is also included as part of contract liabilities. The contract liabilities are included within "Accrued expenses and other current liabilities" and "Other liabilities" in the unaudited consolidated balance sheets. The revenues are recognized as (or when) the performance obligation is fulfilled under the contract with the customer.

Changes in the Company's contract asset and liability balances during the three and six months ended June 30, 2021 and 2022 were a result of normal business activity and not materially impacted by any other factors.

Revenue recognized during the three months ended June 30, 2021 and 2022 that was included in the Company's contract liabilities balance at the beginning of the period was $62,060 and $59,361, respectively.

Revenue recognized during the six months ended June 30, 2021 and 2022 that was included in the Company's contract liabilities balance at the beginning of the period was $104,942 and $94,841, respectively.

The following table includes estimated revenue expected to be recognized in the future related to remaining performance obligations as of June 30, 2022:

23. Income taxes

The Company determines its tax provision for interim periods using an estimate of its annual effective tax rate adjusted for discrete items, if any, that are taken into account in the relevant period. Each quarter, the Company updates its estimate of the annual effective tax rate, and if its estimated tax rate changes, the Company makes a cumulative adjustment.

The following table summarizes activities related to the Company's unrecognized tax benefits for uncertain tax positions for the six months ended June 30, 2022:

	Six months er	nded June 30, 2022
Opening balance at January 1	$	25,651

Decrease related to prior year tax positions due to lapse of applicable statute of limitation		(50)
Effect of exchange rate changes		(788)
Closing balance at June 30	$	23,111

As of December 31, 2021 and June 30, 2022, the Company had unrecognized tax benefits amounting to 25,651 and $23,111, respectively, which, if recognized, would impact the Company's effective tax rate.

As of December 31, 2021 and June 30, 2022, the Company had accrued $2,842 and $2,882, respectively, in interest and $628 and $610, respectively, for penalties relating to unrecognized tax benefits.

During the year ended December 31, 2021 and the six months ended June 30, 2022, the Company recognized approximately $(13,851) and $(746), respectively, in interest related to income taxes.

24. Commitments and contingencies

Capital commitments

As of December 31, 2021 and June 30, 2022, the Company has committed to spend $13,317 and $17,354, respectively, under agreements to purchase property, plant and equipment. This amount is net of capital advances paid in respect of these purchases.

Bank guarantees

The Company has outstanding bank guarantees and letters of credit amounting to $7,865 and $7,565 as of December 31, 2021 and June 30, 2022, respectively. Bank guarantees are generally provided to government agencies and excise and customs authorities for the purpose of maintaining a bonded warehouse. These guarantees may be revoked if the government agencies suffer any losses or damages through the breach of any of the covenants contained in the agreements governing such guarantees.

Other commitments

Certain units of the Company's Indian subsidiaries are established as Software Technology Parks of India units or Special Economic Zone ("SEZ") units under the relevant regulations issued by the Government of India. These units are exempt from customs and other duties on imported and indigenous capital goods, stores and spares. SEZ units are also exempt from the Goods and Services Tax ("GST") that was introduced in India in 2017. The Company has undertaken to pay taxes and duties, if any, in respect of capital goods, stores, spares and services consumed duty-free, in the event that certain terms and conditions are not fulfilled.

Contingency

(a) In February 2019, there was a judicial pronouncement in India with respect to defined contribution benefit payments interpreting certain statutory defined contribution obligations of employees and employers. It is not currently clear whether the interpretation set out in the pronouncement has retrospective application. If applied retrospectively, the interpretation would result in an increase in contributions payable by the Company for past periods for certain of its India-based employees. There are numerous interpretative challenges concerning the retrospective application of the judgment. Due to such challenges and a lack of interpretive guidance, and based on legal advice the Company has obtained on the matter, it is currently impracticable to reliably estimate the timing and amount of any payments the Company may be required to make. Accordingly, the Company plans to obtain further clarity and will evaluate the amount of a potential provision, if any.

(b) The Indian taxing authorities ("ITA") have initiated proceedings to examine the availability of a tax exemption claimed by the Company in respect of exports of services and related refunds under the Indian Goods and Services ("GST") tax regime and the previous service tax regime. In the second quarter of 2020, the ITA began to challenge or reject the Company's Indian GST and service tax refunds in certain Indian states. In total, refunds of $29,501 have been denied or challenged by the ITA. Additional refunds may be denied. The Company is pursuing appeals of the denied refunds before relevant appellate authorities. The Company had requested these refunds pursuant to the tax exemption available for exports under the previous service tax regime as well as the current GST regime in respect of services performed by the Company in India for affiliates and clients outside of India. In denying the refunds, the ITA have taken the position that the services provided are local services, which interpretation, if correct, would make the service tax and GST exemption on exports unavailable to the Company in respect of a construct and the risk that the liability will materialize is remote. The Government of India has issued an administrative circular which supports the Company's position, and the Company believes that the appellate authorities will reverse the previous orders denying refunds owed to the Company. Accordingly, no reserve has been provided as of June 30, 2022.

(c) An affiliate of the Company in India received an assessment order in 2016 seeking to assess tax amounting to $103,995 (including interest to the date of the order) on certain transactions that occurred in 2013. This amount excludes penalty or interest accrued since the date of the order. The Income Tax Appellate Tribunal of India (the "Tribunal") has accepted the legal arguments raised by the Company on appeal and the assessment order has been cancelled. Taxes paid under protest have been refunded along with interest to the Company. The Indian tax authorities may appeal the order of the Tribunal before a higher court. Based on its evaluation of the facts underlying the transaction and legal advice received on the matter, the Company believes that it is more likely than not that this transaction would not be subject to tax liability in India. Accordingly, no reserve has been provided as of June 30, 2022.

(d) In September 2020, the Indian Parliament approved the Code on Social Security, 2020 (the "Code"), which will impact the Company's contributions to its defined contribution and defined benefit plans for employees based in India. The date the changes will take effect is not yet known and the rules for quantifying the financial impact have not yet been published. The Company will evaluate the impact of the Code on the Company in its financial statements for the period in which the Code becomes effective and the related rules are published.

25. Restructuring

The Company has implemented a flexible, hybrid global delivery model in line with the Company's long-term strategy that incorporates a mix of offshore, onshore, near shore, and remote working. As a result, the Company determined that certain leases and employee roles were no longer needed.

Accordingly, in the second quarter of 2022, the Company recorded a $38,815 restructuring charge relating to the abandonment of leased office premises and an employee severance charge. Of the total charge of $38,815, $21,684 was a non-cash charge (including $1,377 related to writing down of certain property, plant and equipment) recorded as other operating expense, which pertains to the abandonment of various leased office premises. The Company also recorded a severance charge of $17,131 in personnel expenses. The Company has sought out one or more third parties to sublease certain office premises from the Company, wherever applicable, instead of abandoning them. However, the Company has not been successful in such attempts, and the Company believes it is unlikely that it will be able to sublease such premises in the foreseeable future.

26. Subsequent events

Dividend

On July 20, 2022, the Company announced that its Board of Directors has declared a dividend for the third quarter of 2022 of $0.125 per common share, which is payable on September 23, 2022 to shareholders of record as of the close of business on September 9, 2022. The declaration of any future dividends will be at the discretion of the Board of Directors and subject to Bermuda and other applicable laws.

Item 2. Management's Discussion and Analysis of Financial Condition and Results of Operations

The following discussion and analysis is meant to provide material information relevant to an assessment of the financial condition and results of operations of our Company, including an evaluation of the amounts and uncertainties of cash flows from operations and from outside sources, so as to allow investors to better view our Company from management's perspective. The following discussion should be read in conjunction with our consolidated financial statements and the related notes that appear elsewhere in this Quarterly Report on Form 10-Q and in our Annual Report on Form 10-K for the year ended December 31, 2021 and with the information under the heading "Management's Discussion and Analysis of Financial Condition and Results of Operations" in our Annual Report on Form 10-K for the year ended December 31, 2021. Continued impact of COVID-19 on our business and results of operations

The COVID-19 pandemic continues to impact the global economy and the markets in which we operate. In the six months ended June 30, 2022, the pandemic had a modest negative impact on our results and may continue to have an impact on us in future periods. Our Global Leadership Council continues to coordinate and oversee our actions in response to the COVID-19 pandemic.

We will continue to assess the impact of the COVID-19 pandemic on the Company and respond accordingly. The ultimate impact of COVID-19 on our business and the industry in which we operate remains unknown and unpredictable. Our past results may not be indicative of our future performance, and our financial results in future periods, including but not limited to net revenues, income from operations, income from untrainings per share, may differ materially from historical trends. The extent of the impact of the COVID-19 pandemic on our business will depend on a number of factors, including but not limited to the duration and severity of the pandemic; future variants or subvariants of the COVID-19 virus and the severity of such variants; rates of vaccines, including booster shots, and treatments for COVID-19 globally; the macroeconomic impact of the spread of the virus, including the possibility of prolonged decreases in spending on the types of services we provide, deterioration of our clients' credit, or reduced economic activity; and related government stimulus measures. We are currently unable to predict the full impact that the COVID-19 pandemic will have on our results from operations, financial condition, liquidity and cash flows due to numerous uncertainties, including with respect to the factors listed above. In addition, some of our expenses are less variable in nature and do not closely correlate with revenues, which may lead to a decrease in our profitability.

Impact of Russia's Military Action in Ukraine on our Business

In February 2022, Russian forces launched significant military action against Ukraine, which has resulted in conflict and disruptions in the region. In response to this action taken by Russia, the United States, the United Kingdom and the European Union governments, among others, have imposed various sanctions and export-control measures, including comprehensive financial sanctions, targeted at Russia or designated individuals and entities with business interests and/or government connections to Russia or those involved in Russian military activities. Governments have also enhanced export controls and trade sanctions targeting Russia's import of goods. In the event these geopolitical tensions fail to improve or deteriorate, additional governmental sanctions and measures may be enacted.

It is not possible to predict the broader consequences of the conflict, including related geopolitical tensions. The invasion and retaliatory actions taken by the United States and other countries in respect thereof, as well as any counter measures or retaliatory actions by Russia in response, have in certain cases caused and are likely to continue to cause supply chain disruption and inflation, regional instability, geopolitical shifts and could materially adversely affect global trade, currency exchange rates, regional economies and the global economy. While we do not have any operations in Russia or Ukraine, it is difficult to anticipate the impact of any of the foregoing on our business, and the conflict and actions taken in response to the conflict could increase our costs, disrupt our supply chain, impair our ability to raise additional capital when needed on acceptable terms, if at all, or otherwise adversely affect our business, financial position or operations. We continue to monitor the situation closely.

For additional information about the risks we face in relation to the COVID-19 pandemic and Russia's invasion of Ukraine, see Part I, Item 1A—"Risk Factors" in our Annual Report on Form 10-K for the year ended December 31, 2021.

Additionally, this acquisition expanded our capabilities into Magento Commerce, which powers Adobe Commerce Cloud, and Shopify Plus, a cloud-based-ecommerce platform for high-volume merchants. Goodwill arising from the acquisition amounting to $36.9 million has been allocated among two of our reporting units as follows: Consumer and Healthcare in the amount of $30.4 million and High Tech and Manufacturing in the amount of $6.6 million, using a relative fair value allocation method. Three Months Ended June 30, 2022 Compared to the Three Months Ended June 30, 2021

Net revenues. Our net revenues were $1,089.1 million in the second quarter of 2022, up 101.0 million, or 10.2%, from $988.1 million in the second quarter of 2021. The growth in our net revenues was primarily driven by strong performance in Data-Tech-AI services.

Adjusted for foreign exchange, primarily the impact of changes in the value of the euro, U.K. pound sterling, Japanese yen and Australian dollar against the U.S. dollar, our net revenues grew 12.3% in the second quarter of 2022 compared to the second quarter of 2021 on a constant currency¹ basis. We provide information about our revenue growth on a constant currency¹ basis so that our revenue may be viewed without the impact of foreign currency exchange rate fluctuations, thereby facilitating period-to-period comparisons of our business performance. Total net revenues on a constant currency⁴ basis are calculated by restating current-period activity using the prior fiscal period's foreign currency exchange rates and adjusted for hedging gains/losses.

Our average headcount increased by 11.9% to approximately 114,300 in the second quarter of 2022 from approximately 102,100 in the second quarter of 2021.

Digital Operations	581.7		600.6	3.3 %
Total net revenues	$ 988.1	$	1,089.1	10.2 %

Net revenues from Data-Tech-AI services in the second quarter of 2022 were $488.5 million, up $82.0 million, or 20.2%, from $406.5 million in the second quarter of 2021. This increase was largely driven by growth in our cloud-based data solutions across our focus areas of supply chain management, sales and commercial, and risk in the second quarter of 2022 compared to the second quarter of 2021.

Net revenues from Digital Operations services in the second quarter of 2022 were $600.6 million, up $18.9 million, or 3.3%, from $581.7 million in the second quarter of 2021, primarily due to deal ramp-ups from recently signed client engagements.

Revenues by segment were as follows:

Net revenues from our Financial Services segment increased by 17.2% in the second quarter of 2022 compared to the second quarter of 2021, largely due to services provided to finitech companies and digital banks as well as continued demand for our risk services from traditional banks. Net revenues from our Consumer and Healthcare segment increased by 8.9% in the second quarter of 2022 compared to the second quarter of 2021, largely driven by an increase in sales and commercial services and supply chain management engagements. Net revenues from our High Tech and Manufacturing segment increased by 13.2% in the second quarter of 2022 compared to the second quarter of 2021, largely driven by supply chain management engagements. Net revenues from our High Tech and Manufacturing segment increased by 13.2% in the second quarter of 2022 compared to the second quarter of 2021, largely driven by supply chain management engagements. Net revenues from our High Tech and Manufacturing segment increased by 13.2% in the second quarter of 2022 primarily represents the impact of foreign exchange fluctuations, which is not allocated to our segments for management's internal reporting purposes. Net revenues from "Business held for sale" in the table above represents revenues from a business classified as held for sale with effect from April 1, 2022 as part of a series of actions we are taking to focus our business on emerging solutions where we see the greatest opportunities for growth and to deprioritize assets that no longer fit with our long-term strategy. For additional information, see Note 8—"Assets and liabilities held for sale" and Note 19—"Segment reporting" under Part I, Item 1—"Unaudited Consolidated Financial Statements" above.

Cost of revenue. Cost of revenue was $714.3 million in the second quarter of 2022, up $81.3 million, or 12.8%, from $633.0 million in the second quarter of 2021. The increase in cost of revenue in the second quarter of 2022 compared to the second quarter of 2021 was primarily due to (i) an increase in our operational headcount to support revenue growth, (ii) higher talent replacement cost as well as wage inflation, and (iii) higher travel related expenses. This increase was partially offset by a decrease in depreciation and amortization and infrastructure expenses in the second quarter of 2022 compared to the second quarter of 2021. We also recorded an employee severance charge as part of our restructuring in the second quarter of 2022 while no corresponding charge was recorded in the second quarter of 2021. For additional information, see Note 25–"Restructuring" under Part I, Item 1–"Unaudited Consolidated Financial Statements" above.

Gross margin. Our gross margin decreased from 35.9% in the second quarter of 2021 to 34.4% in the second quarter of 2022. Excluding the impact of an employee severance charge of $8.4 million, gross margin was 35.2% in the second quarter of 2022. The decrease in gross margin, excluding the impact of an employee severance charge, was primarily due to higher personnel expenses, higher talent replacement cost, higher wage inflation and higher travel related expenses, partially offset by increased productivity due to improved utilization of our Data-Tech-AI resources, in the second quarter of 2022 compared to the second quarter of 2021.

Selling, general and administrative expenses (SG&A). SG&A expenses as a percentage of total net revenues increased from 20.7% in the second quarter of 2021 to 21.4% in the second quarter of 2022. Excluding the impact of an employee severance charge of $8.7 million, SG&A expenses as a percentage of total net revenues were 20.6% in the second quarter of 2022. SG&A expenses were $233.1 million in the second quarter of 2022, up $28.9 million, or 14.2%, from the second quarter of 2021. The increase in SG&A expenses, excluding the impact of an employee severance charge, was primarily due to higher sales and marketing expenses, an increase in research and development costs related to cloud-based offerings and other prioritized service lines in the second half of 2021, increased travel related expenses and increased staffing as well as wage inflation in the second quarter of 2022 compared to the second quarter of 2021, largely offset by operational leverage.

Amortization of acquired intangibles. Amortization of acquired intangibles was $10.9 million in the second quarter of 2022, down $3.7 million, or 25.1%, from the second quarter of 2021. This decrease was primarily due to the completion of useful lives of intangibles acquired in prior periods, partially offset by amortization expense related to Hoodoo Digital, LLC, which we acquired in the fourth quarter of 2021.

Other operating (income) expense, net. Other operating expense (net of income) was $21.2 million in the second quarter of 2022 compared to other operating income (net of expense) of $0.5 million in the second quarter of 2021. The change in operating income/expense was due to a charge of $20.3 million related to the abandonment of various office premises and an impairment charge of $1.4 million related to tangible assets, both of which were taken as part of a restructuring in the second quarter of 2022. No corresponding charges were recorded in the second quarter of 2021. For additional information, see Note 25 – "Restructuring" under Part I, Item 1–"Unaudited Consolidated Financial Statements" above.

Income from operations. As a result of the foregoing factors, income from operations as a percentage of total net revenues decreased from 13.9% in the second quarter of 2021 to 10.1% in the second quarter of 2022. Income from operations decreased by $27.2 million from $136.9 million in the second quarter of 2021 to $109.7 million in the second quarter of 2022, primarily due to the restructuring discussed above. For additional information, see Note 25—"Restructuring" under Part I, Item 1—"Unaudited Consolidated Financial Statements" above.

Foreign exchange gains (losses), net. We recorded a net foreign exchange gain of $1.1 million in the second quarter of 2022 compared to $5.5 million in the second quarter of 2021. The gains in the second quarters of 2022 and 2021 were primarily due to the depreciation of the Indian rupee against the U.S. dollar during each period.

Interest income (expense), net. Our interest expense (net of interest income) was $11.2 million in the second quarter of 2022, down $1.9 million from $13.1 million in the second quarter of 2021, primarily due to a $2.5 million decrease in interest expense, offset by a $0.6 million decrease in interest expense was largely due to the repayment in the second quarter of 2022 of our $350 million aggregate principal amount of 3.70% senior notes issued in March 2017, partially offset by a higher outstanding balance on our revolving credit facility in the second quarter of 2022 compared to the second quarter of 2021, which we discuss in the section titled "Liquidity and Capital Resources—Financial Condition" below. The weighted average rate of interest on our debt, including the net impact of interest rate swaps, decreased from 2.9% in the second quarter of 2022.

Other income (expense), net. Our other expense (net of income) was $4.3 million in the second quarter of 2022 compared to other income (net of expense) of $6.1 million in the second quarter of 2021. This change was primarily due to losses on changes in the fair value of assets in our deferred compensation plan in the second quarter of 2022 compared to gains on changes in the fair value of assets in our deferred compensation plan in the second quarter of 2021, for which we were indemnified by GE.

Income tax expense. Our income tax expense was $23.7 million in the second quarter of 2022, down from $32.7 million in the second quarter of 2021, due to lower pre-tax income, representing an effective tax rate ("ETR") of 24.8% in the second quarter of 2022, up from 24.2% in the second quarter of 2021. The increase in our ETR was primarily due to lower discrete benefits recorded in the second quarter of 2022, partially offset by lower tax rates in certain jurisdictions.

Net income. As a result of the foregoing factors, net income as a percentage of total net revenues was 6.6% in the second quarter of 2022, down from 10.4% in the second quarter of 2021. Net income decreased from $102.7 million in the second quarter of 2021 to $71.7 million in the second quarter of 2022, primarily due to the restructuring discussed above. For additional information, see Note 25 – "Restructuring" under Part I, Item 1–"Unaudited Consolidated Financial Statements" above.

Adjusted income from operations. Adjusted income from operations ("AOI") increased by $5.8 million from $177.0 million in the second quarter of 2021 to $182.8 million in the second quarter of 2022. Our AOI margin decreased from 17.9% in the second quarter of 2021 to 16.9% in the second quarter of 2022 as a result of lower gross margin, higher sales and marketing expenses, an increase in investments in research and development related to cloud-based offerings and other prioritized service lines in the second quarter of 2021. In calculating our AOI margin for the second quarter of 2022, we adjusted total net revenues to exclude revenues from the business designated as held for sale.

AOI is a non-GAAP measure and is not based on any comprehensive set of accounting rules or principles and should not be considered a substitute for, or superior to, financial measures calculated in accordance with GAAP, and may be different from non-GAAP financial measures used by other companies. We believe that presenting AOI together with our reported results can provide useful supplemental information to our investors and management regarding financial and business trends relating to our financial condition and results of operations. A limitation of using AOI versus net income calculated in accordance with GAAP is that AOI excludes certain recurring costs and certain other charges, namely stock-based compensation and amortization of acquired intangibles. We compensate for this limitation by providing specific information on the GAAP amounts excluded from AOI.

We calculate AOI as net income, excluding (i) stock-based compensation, (ii) amortization and impairment of acquired intangible assets, (iii) acquisition-related expenses excluded in the period in which an acquisition is consummated, (iv) foreign exchange (gains)/losses, (v) any business held for sale, (vi) restructuring expenses, (vii) interest (income) expense, and (viii) income tax expense, as we believe that our results after taking into account these adjustments more accurately reflect our ongoing operations. For additional information, see Note 19—"Segment reporting" under Part I, Item 1—"Unaudited Consolidated Financial Statements" above.

During the second quarter of 2022, we carried out certain restructuring activities in line with our long-term strategy to implement a flexible, hybrid global delivery model that incorporates a mix of offshore, onshore, near shore, and remote working. As a result, we determined that certain leases and employee roles were unnecessary. Accordingly, we took a restructuring charge of $38.8 million, which was excluded from AOI in the second quarter of 2022. No corresponding charge was recorded in the second quarter of 2021. For additional information, see Note 25–"Restructuring" under Part I, Item 1–"Unaudited Consolidated Financial Statements" above.

During the second quarter of 2022, management approved a plan to divest a business within our Consumer and Healthcare segment. We have classified the assets and liabilities of this business as held for sale and have recorded net revenues and a loss of $4.9 million and $7.2 million, respectively, for the second quarter of 2022. This loss was excluded from AOI in the second quarter of 2022. There was no corresponding loss to exclude in the second quarter of 2021, as this business was not designated as held for sale during such period. For additional information, see Note 19—"Segment reporting" under Part I, Item 1—"Unaudited Consolidated Financial Statements" above.

The following table shows the reconciliation of AOI to net income, the most directly comparable GAAP measure, for the three months ended June 30, 2021 and 2022:

AOI of our Financial Services segment increased to $36.7 million in the second quarter of 2022 from $34.1 million in the second quarter of 2021, primarily due to higher revenues, partially offset by higher talent replacement cost as well as wage inflation. AOI of our Consumer and Healthcare segment decreased to $55.4 million in the second quarter of 2022 from $63.2 million in the second quarter of 2021, largely due to increased investment in resources, higher talent replacement costs and the impact of wage inflation, partially offset by higher revenues. AOI of our High Tech and Manufacturing segment increased to $70.2 million in the second quarter of 2022 from $68.0 million in the second quarter of 2021, primarily driven by higher revenues, partially offset by higher talent replacement costs as well as wage inflation. AOI for $70.2 million in the second quarter of 2021, primarily driven by higher revenues, partially offset by higher talent replacement costs as well as wage inflation. AOI for $70.2 million in the second quarter of 2021, primarily driven by higher revenues, partially offset by higher talent replacement costs as well as wage inflation. AOI for $70.2 million in the second quarter of 2021, primarily driven by higher revenues, partially offset by higher talent replacement costs as well as wage inflation. AOI for a bave primarily represents the impact of foreign exchange fluctuations, adjustment of allowances for credit losses and over- or under-absorption of overheads, none of which is allocated to any individual segment for management's internal reporting purposes. AOI for "Business held for sale" in the table above primarily represents the loss attributable to a business classified as held for sale. See Note 19 — "Segment reporting" and Note 8—"Assets and liabilities held for sale" under Part I, Item 1— "Unaudited Consolidated Financial Statements" above.

Six months ended June 30, 2022 Compared to the Six months ended June 30, 2021

Net revenues. Our net revenues were $2,157.6 million in the first half of 2022, up $223.4 million, or 11.5%, from $1,934.2 million in the first half of 2021. The growth in our net revenues was from both Data-Tech-AI and Digital Operations services.

Adjusted for foreign exchange, primarily the impact of changes in the value of the euro, U.K. pound sterling, Japanese yen and Australian dollar against the U.S. dollar, our net revenues grew 13.2% in the first half of 2022 compared to the first half of 2021 on a constant currency² basis. Revenue growth on a constant currency² basis is a non-GAAP measure. We provide information about our revenue growth on a constant currency² basis so that our revenue may be viewed without the impact of foreign currency exchange rate fluctuations, thereby facilitating period-to-period comparisons of our business performance. Total net revenues on a constant currency² basis are calculated by restating current-period activity using the prior fiscal period's foreign currency exchange rates and adjusted for hedging gains/losses.

Our average headcount increased by 14.4% to approximately 113,900 in the first half of 2022 from approximately 99,600 in the first half of 2021.

Digital Operations	1,154.5	1,202.3	3 4.1 %
Total net revenues	$ 1,934.2	$ 2,157.	6 11.5 %

Net revenues from Data-Tech-AI services in the first half of 2022 were $955.3 million, up $175.6 million, or 22.5%, from $779.7 million in the first half of 2021. This increase was largely driven by growth in our cloud-based data solutions across our focus areas of supply chain management, sales and commercial, and risk in the first half of 2022 compared to the first half of 2021.

Net revenues from Digital Operations services in the first half of 2022 were $1,202.3 million, up $47.8 million, or 4.1%, from $1,154.5 million in the first half of 2021, primarily due to increased deal ramp-ups from newly signed client engagements.

² Revenue growth on a constant currency basis is a non-GAAP measure and is calculated by restating current-period activity using the prior fiscal period's foreign currency exchange rates adjusted for hedging gains/losses in such period.

Net revenues from our Financial Services segment increased by 15.6% in the first half of 2022 compared to the first half of 2021, largely due to services provided to fintech companies and digital banks as well as continued demand for our risk services from traditional banks. Net revenues from our Consumer and Healthcare segment increased by 13.6% in the first half of 2022 compared to the first half of 2021, largely due to services provided to fintech companies and digital banks as well as revenues from traditional banks. Net revenues from our Consumer and Healthcare segment increased by 13.6% in the first half of 2022 compared to the first half of 2021, largely driven by supply chain management and guarter of 2021. Net revenues from our High Tech and Manufacturing segment increased by 11.9% in the first half of 2022 compared to the first half of 2021, largely driven by supply chain management and finance and accounting engagements with both new and existing clients, as well as revenues from Hoodoo Digital, LLC, which we acquired in the fourth quarter of 2021. Net revenues from "Others" primarily represents the impact of foreign exchange fluctuations, which is not allocated to our segments for managements' internal reporting purposes. Net revenues from "Business held for sale" in the table above represents revenues from a business classified as held for sale with effect from April 1, 2022 as part of a series of actions we are taking to focus our business on emerging solutions where we see the greatest opportunities for growth and to deprioritize assets that no longer fit with our long-term strategy. For additional information, see Note 8—"Assets and liabilities held for sale" and Note 19—"Segment reporting" under Part I, Item 1—"Unaudited Consolidated Financial Statements" above.

Cost of revenue. Cost of revenue was $1,400.2 million in the first half of 2022, up $166.3 million, or 13.5%, from $1,233.9 million in the first half of 2021. The increase in our cost of revenue in the first half of 2022 compared to the first half of 2021 was primarily due to (i) an increase in our operational headcount to support revenue growth, (ii) higher talent replacement cost as well as wage inflation, and (iii) higher travel related expenses. This increase was partially offset by a decrease in depreciation and amortization, infrastructure expenses and communication expenses. We also recorded an employee severance charge as part of the restructuring we undertook in the first half of 2022, while no corresponding charge was recorded in the first half of 2021. For additional information, see Note 25–"Restructuring" under Part I, Item 1 – "Unaudited Consolidated Financial Statements" above.

Gross margin. Our gross margin decreased from 36.2% in the first half of 2021 to 35.1% in the first half of 2022. Excluding the impact of an employee severance charge of $8.4 million, gross margin was 35.5% in the first half of 2022. The decrease in gross margin, excluding the impact of an employee severance charge, was primarily due to higher personnel expenses, higher talent replacement cost and wage inflation, and higher travel related expenses in the first half of 2022 compared to the first half of 2021.

Selling, general and administrative expenses (SG&A). SG&A expenses as a percentage of total net revenues increased from 20.9% in the first half of 2021 to 21.8% in the first half of 2022. Excluding the impact of an employee severance charge of $8.7 million, SG&A expenses as a percentage of total net revenues were 21.4% in the first half of 2022. SG&A expenses were $470.4 million in the first half of 2021. The increase in SG&A expenses, excluding the impact of an employee severance charge, was primarily due to higher sales and marketing expenses, increased investments to support increased revenues, an increase in SG&A expense of 2021, travel related to cloud-based offerings and other prioritized service lines in the second half of 2021, travel related expenses and increased staffing as well as wage inflation in the first half of 2022, compared to the first half of 2021, percentage.

Amortization of acquired intangibles. Amortization of acquired intangibles was $22.2 million in the first half of 2022, down $8.5 million, or 27.7%, from the first half of 2021. This decrease was primarily due to the completion of useful lives of intangibles acquired in prior periods, partially offset by amortization expense related to Hoodoo Digital, LLC, which we acquired in the fourth quarter of 2021.

Other operating (income) expense, net. Other operating expense (net of income) was $21.2 million in the first half of 2022 compared to other operating income (net of expense) of $0.1 million in the first half of 2021. The change in other operating expense/income was due to a charge of $20.3 million related to the abandonment of various office premises and an impairment charge of $1.4 million related to tangible assets, both of which were taken as part of a restructuring in the first half of 2022. No corresponding charges were recorded in the first half of 2021. For additional information, see Note 25—"Restructuring" under Part 1, Item 1—"Unaudited Consolidated Financial Statements" above.

Income from operations. As a result of the foregoing factors, income from operations as a percentage of total net revenues decreased from 13.7% in the first half of 2021 to 11.3% in the first half of 2022. Income from operations decreased by $21.2 million from $264.8 million in the first half of 2021 to $243.6 million in the first half of 2022, primarily due to the restructuring discussed above. For additional information, see Note 25–"Restructuring" under Part I, Item 1–"Unaudited Consolidated Financial Statements" above.

Foreign exchange gains (losses), net. We recorded a net foreign exchange gain of $5.4 million in the first half of 2022, compared to $8.8 million in the first half of 2021. The gain in the first half of 2022 and 2021 resulted primarily from the depreciation of the Indian rupee against the U.S. dollar.

Interest income (expense), net. Our interest expense (net of interest income) was $23.3 million in the first half of 2022, down $2.1 million from $25.4 million in the first half of 2021, primarily due to a $2.0 million decrease in interest expense and a $0.1 million increase in interest income. The decrease in interest expense was largely due to the repayment of our $350 million aggregate principal amount of 3.70% senior notes issued in March 2017, partially offset by interest expense related to our $350 million aggregate principal amount of 1.750% senior notes issued in March 2021, which we discuss in the section titled "Liquidity and Capital Resources—Financial Condition" below. The weighted average rate of interest on our debt, including the net impact of interest rate swaps, decreased from 3.0% in the first half of 2021 to 2.8% in the first half of 2022.

Other income (expense), net. Our other expense (net of income) was $4.7 million in the first half of 2022 compared to other income (net of expense) of $7.5 million in the first half of 2021. This change was largely attributable to losses on changes in the fair value of assets in our deferred compensation plan in the first half of 2022 compared to gains on changes in the fair value of assets in our deferred compensation plan in the first half of 2021 for which we were indemnified by GE. Income tax expense. Our income tax expense was $53.2 million in the first half of 2022, down from $61.7 million in the first half of 2021, due to lower pre-tax income, representing an ETR of 24.1% in the first half of 2022, consistent with the first half of 2021.

Net income. As a result of the foregoing factors, net income as a percentage of total net revenues was 7.8% in the first half of 2022, down from 10.0% in the first half of 2021. Net income decreased by $26.1 million from $194.0 million in the first half of 2021 to $167.8 million in the first half of 2022, primarily due to the restructuring discussed above. For additional information, see Note 25—"Restructuring" under Part I, Item 1—"Unaudited Consolidated Financial Statements" above.

Adjusted income from operations. Adjusted income from operations ("AOI") increased by $3.1 million from $339.7 million in the first half of 2021 to $342.8 million in the first half of 2022. Our AOI margin decreased to 15,9% in the first half of 2022 from 17,6% in the first half of 2021. This decrease was due to lower gross margins, higher sales and marketing expenses, an increase in investments in research and development related to cloud-based offerings and other prioritized service lines in the second half of 2021 and travel related expenses in the first half of 2022 compared to the first half of 2021. In calculating our AOI margin for the first half of 2022, we adjusted total net revenues to exclude revenues from the business designated as held for sale.

AOI is a non-GAAP measure and is not based on any comprehensive set of accounting rules or principles and should not be considered a substitute for, or superior to, financial measures calculated in accordance with GAAP, and may be different from non-GAAP financial measures used by other companies. We believe that presenting AOI together with our reported results can provide useful supplemental information to our investors and management regarding financial and business trends relating to our financial condition and results of operations. A limitation of using AOI versus net income calculated in accordance with GAAP is that AOI excludes certain recurring costs and certain other charges, namely stock-based compensation and amortization of acquired intangibles. We compensate for this limitation by providing specific information on the GAAP amounts excluded from AOI.

We calculate AOI as net income, excluding (i) stock-based compensation, (ii) amortization and impairment of acquired intangible assets, (iii) acquisition-related expenses excluded in the period in which an acquisition is consummated, (iv) foreign exchange (gain)/loss, (v) restructuring expenses, (vi) any business held for sale, (vii) interest (income) expense, and (viii) income tax expense, as we believe that our results after taking into account these adjustments more accurately reflect our ongoing operations. For additional information, see Note 19–"Segment reporting" under Part I, Item 1–"Unaudited Consolidated Financial Statements" above.

During the first half of 2022, we carried out certain restructuring activities in line with our long-term strategy to implement a flexible, hybrid global delivery model that incorporates a mix of offshore, onshore, near shore, and remote working. As a result, we determined that certain leases and employee roles were unnecessary. Accordingly, we took a restructuring charge of $38.8 million, which was excluded from AOI in the first half of 2022. No corresponding charge was recorded in the first half of 2021. For additional information, see Note 25–"Restructuring" under Part I, Item 1–"Unaudited Consolidated Financial Statements" above.

During the first half of 2022, management approved a plan to divest a business within our Consumer and Healthcare segment. We have classified the assets and liabilities of this business as held for sale and have recorded net revenues and loss of $4.9 million and $7.2 million, respectively, for the first half of 2022. This loss was excluded from AOI in the first half of 2022, and there was no corresponding loss to exclude in the first half of 2021, as this business was not designated as held for sale during such period. For additional information, see Note 19–"Segment reporting" under Part I, Item 1–"Unaudited Consolidated Financial Statements" above.

The following table shows the reconciliation of AOI to net income, the most directly comparable GAAP measure for the six months ended June 30, 2021 and 2022:

AOI of our Financial Services segment decreased from $66.5 million in the first half of 2021 to $61.7 million in the first half of 2022, primarily due to higher talent replacement cost and the impact of wage inflation, partially offset by higher revenues in the first half of 2022 compared to the first half of 2021. AOI of our Consumer and Healthcare segment decreased from $121.0 million in the first half of 2022 to $108.7 million in the first half of 2022, primarily due to higher investment in resources, higher talent replacement cost and the impact of wage inflation, partially offset by higher revenues in the first half of 2022 compared to the first half of 2022 compared to $138.3 million in the first half of 2022, primarily due to higher revenues in the first half of 2022 compared to $138.3 million in the first half of 2022 from $135.7 million in the first half of 2021 to $108.7 million in the first half of 2021. AOI of our High Tech and Manufacturing segment increased to $138.3 million in the first half of 2022 from $135.7 million in the first half of 2021 do $108 for content of $100 million. AOI for "Others" in the table above primarily represents the impact of foreign exchange fluctuations, adjustment of allowances for credit losses and over- or under-absorption of overheads, none of which is allocated to any individual segment for management's internal reporting purposes. AOI for "Business held for sale" in the table above primarily represents the loss attributable to a business classified as held for sale. See Note 8—"Assets and liabilities held for sale" and Note 19—"Segment reporting" under Part I, Item 1— "Unaudited Consolidated Financial Statements" above.

Financial Condition

We have historically financed our operations and our expansion, including acquisitions, with cash from operations and borrowing facilities.

On February 9, 2021, our board of directors approved a 10% increase in our quarterly cash dividend to $0.1075 per share, up from $0.0975 per share in 2020, representing an annual dividend of $0.43 per common share, up from $0.39 per share in 2020, payable to holders of our common shares. On March 19, 2021 and June 23, 2021, we paid a dividend of $0.1075 per share, amounting to $20.1 million and $20.1 million in the aggregate, to shareholders of record as of March 10, 2021 and June 11, 2021, respectively.

On February 10, 2022, our board of directors approved a 16% increase in our quarterly cash dividend to $0.125 per share, up from $0.1075 per share in 2021, representing a planned annual dividend of $0.50 per common share, up from $0.43 per share in 2021, payable to holders of our common shares. On March 23, 2022 and June 24, 2022, we paid a dividend of $0.125 per share, amounting to $23.1 million and $22.9 million in the aggregate, to shareholders of record as of March 10, 2022 and June 10, 2022, respectively.

As of June 30, 2022, $454.7 million of our $460.4 million in cash and cash equivalents was held by our foreign (non-Bermuda) subsidiaries. $3.3 million of this cash was held by foreign subsidiaries for which we expect to incur and have accrued a deferred tax liability on the repatriation of $9.6 million of retained earnings. $451.4 million of the cash and cash equivalents is held by foreign subsidiaries in jurisdictions where no tax is expected to be imposed upon repatriation of retained earnings or is being indefinitely reinvested.

The total authorization under our existing share repurchase program is $1,750.0 million, of which $186.9 million remained available as of June 30, 2022. Since our share repurchase program was initially authorized in 2015, we have repurchased 50,827,029 of our common shares at an average price of $30.75 per share, for an aggregate purchase price of $1,563.1 million.

During the six months ended June 30, 2022, we repurchased 3,439,952 of our common shares on the open market at a weighted average price of $44.19 per share for an aggregate cash amount of $152.0 million. During the six months ended June 30, 2021, we repurchased 3,592,409 of our common shares on the open market at a weighted average price of 40.96 per share for an aggregate cash amount of $147.2 million. All repurchased shares have been retired.

For additional information, see Note 17-"Capital stock" under Part I, Item 1-"Unaudited Consolidated Financial Statements" above.

We expect that for the next twelve months and for the foreseeable future our cash from operations, cash reserves and debt capacity will be sufficient to finance our operations, our growth and expansion plans, dividend payments and additional share repurchases we may make under our share repurchase program. However, there is no assurance that the impacts of the COVID-19 pandemic we have experienced to date, and any future impact we may experience, will not have an adverse effect on our cash flows. In addition, we may raise additional funds through public or private debt or equity financing. Our working capital needs are primarily to finance our payroll and other administrative and information technology expenses in advance of the receipt of accounts receivable. Our primary capital requirements include opening new delivery centers, expanding existing operations to support our growth, financing acquisitions and enhancing capabilities, including building certain digital solutions.

Cash flows from operating, investing and financing activities, as reflected in our consolidated statements of cash flows, are summarized in the following table:

	Six months ended June 30,		Percentage Change Increase/(Decrease)
		2021	2022 vs. 2021
	(dollars in millions)
Net cash provided by/ (used for):
Operating activities	$	237.8	$ (11.9)	(105.0)%
Investing activities		(29.0)	(29.0)	0.1 %
Financing activities		(130.5)	(357.2)	173.8 %
Net increase in cash and cash equivalents	$	78.3	$ (398.2)	(608.6)%

Cash flows used for operating activities. Net cash used for operating activities was $11.9 million in the six months ended June 30, 2022, compared to net cash provided by operating activities of $237.8 million in the six months ended June 30, 2021. This change was primarily due to (i) a $231.3 million increase in operating assets and liabilities driven by increased investment in accounts receivable, higher tax payments (net of tax refunds), and higher employee and vendor related payments in the six months ended June 30, 2022 compared to the six months ended June 30, 2021 and (ii) a $24.8 million decrease in net income in the six months ended June 30, 2022, compared to the six months ended June 30, 2021, compared to the six months ended June 30, 2022, compared to the six months ended June 30, 2021. The change was offset by a $6.4 million increase in non-cash expense, primarily due to the write-down of operating lease right-of-use assets and other assets as part of our restructuring, partially offset by lower depreciation and amortization expense in the six months ended June 30, 2022 compared to the six months ended June 30, 2022 compared to the six months ended June 30, 2021.

Cash flows used for investing activities. Our net cash used for investing activities was $29.0 million in the six months ended June 30, 2022 and 2021, respectively. Cash used for payments (net of sales proceeds) for the purchase of property, plant and equipment and acquired/internally generated intangible assets was $6.6 million higher in the six months ended June 30, 2022 compared to the six months ended June 30, 2021. Cash used for business combinations was $6.6 million in the six months ended June 30, 2021, while no such payments were made in the six months ended June 30, 2022.

Cash flows used for financing activities. Our net cash used for financing activities was $357.2 million in the six months ended June 30, 2022 compared to $130.5 million in the six months ended June 30, 2021. This change was primarily due to (i) the repayment of borrowings (net of proceeds and debt issuance cost) of $117.0 million in the six months ended June 30, 2022 compared to $2022 compared to proceeds from borrowings (net of proceeds and debt issuance cost) of $117.0 million in the six months ended June 30, 2022 compared to $30.4 million in the six months ended June 30, 2021, (ii) an increase in proceeds from the net settlement of stock-based awards, amounting to $44.5 million in the six months ended June 30, 2021, (iii) a decrease in proceeds from the issuance of common shares under our stock-based compensation plans, amounting to $4.4 million in the six months ended June 30, 2021, (iv) higher dividend payments, amounting to $46.1 million in the six months ended June 30, 2022 compared to $40.2 million in the six months ended June 30, 2021, (iv) higher dividend payments, amounting to $46.1 million in the six months ended June 30, 2021, and (v) higher payments for stock purchased and retired (including payment for expenses related to stock repurchase activity), amounting to $152.1 million in the six months ended June 30, 2022, compared to $14.7.2 million in the six months ended June 30, 2022. This change was partially offset by payments for earn-out consideration, amounting to $2.6 million in the six months ended June 30, 2021, while no earn-out related payments were made in the six months ended June 30, 2022.

The Senior Notes and the related guarantees rank pari passu in right of payment with all senior and unsecured debt of the Debt Issuers and Guarantors and rank senior in right of payment to all of the Debt Issuers' and Guarantors' future subordinated debt. The Senior Notes are effectively subordinated to all of the Debt Issuers' and Guarantors' existing and future secured debt to the extent of the value of the assets securing such debt. The Senior Notes are structurally subordinated to all of the existing and future debt and other liabilities of the non-Guarantors, including the liabilities of certain subsidiaries pursuant to our senior credit facility. The non-Guarantors are separate and distinct legal entities and have no obligation, contingent or otherwise, to pay any amounts due under the Senior Notes or to make the funds available to pay those amounts, whether by dividend, distribution, loan or other payment. Any right that the Debt Issuers and Guarantors have, to receive any assets of any of the non-Guarantors upon the insolvency, liquidation, reorganization, dissolution or other winding-up of any non-Guarantor, all of that non-Guarantor's creditors (including trade creditors) would be entitled to payment in full out of that non-Guarantor's assets before the holders of the Senior Notes would be entitled to any payment. Claims of holders of the Senior Notes are structurally subordinated to the liabilities of certain non-Guarantors pursuant to their liabilities under our senior credit facility.

Recent Accounting Pronouncements

For a description of recent accounting pronouncements, see Note 2(n)—"Recently issued accounting pronouncements" under Item 1—"Unaudited Consolidated Financial Statements" above and Part II, Item 7 —"Management's Discussion and Analysis of Financial Condition and Results of Operations"—"Critical Accounting Policies and Estimates" in our Annual Report on Form 10-K for the year ended December 31, 2021.

Item 3. Quantitative and Qualitative Disclosures About Market Risk

We are exposed to interest rate risk arising from changes in interest rates on the floating rate indebtedness under our term loan and revolving credit facility and the Senior Notes. Borrowings under our term loan and revolving credit facility bear interest at floating rates based on LIBOR, but in no event less than the floor rate of 0.0% plus an applicable margin. The interest rate on our Senior Notes is subject to adjustment based on the ratings assigned to our debt by Moody's Investors Service, Inc. and Standard & Poor's Rating Services, Inc. from time to time. A decline in such ratings could result in an increase of up to 2% in the rate of interest on the Senior Notes. Accordingly, fluctuations in market interest rates or a decline in ratings may increase or decrease our interest expense which would, in turn, increase or decrease our net income and cash flow.

We manage a portion of our interest rate risk related to floating rate indebtedness by entering into interest rate swaps under which we receive floating rate payments based on the greater of LIBOR and the floor rate under our term loan and make payments based on a fixed rate. As of June 30, 2022, we were party to interest rate swaps covering a total notional amount of $446 million. Under these swap agreements, the rate that we pay to banks in exchange for LIBOR ranges between 0.38% and 2.65%.

We executed a treasury rate lock agreement covering $350 million in connection with future interest payments to be made on our 2021 Senior Notes, and the treasury rate lock agreement was designated as a cash flow hedge. The treasury rate lock agreement was terminated on March 23, 2021, and a deferred gain was recorded in accumulated other comprehensive income and is being amortized to interest expense over the life of the 2021 Senior Notes. The remaining gain to be amortized related to the treasury rate lock agreement as of June 30, 2022 was $0.6 million.

For a discussion of our market risk associated with foreign currency risk, interest rate risk and credit risk, see Part II, Item 7A-"Quantitative and Qualitative Disclosures about Market Risk" in our Annual Report on Form 10-K for the year ended December 31, 2021.
